The funeral services there following the arrival of the noon train.

John Browning.
The death of John Browning, aged 58 years, who was well known in this section, occurred Monday morning about 4:30 o'clock. It was the result of a long illness, due to old age, and followed an illness of about two weeks. The deceased was born in Montville, Sept. 11, 1822 and was the son of Hazard Browning and Edna Thompson Browning.

Practically all his life had been spent in this community, thirty-five years of which were spent on his farm on Wauregan hill. He was a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal church for about sixty years, and his many splendid qualities endeared him to all with whom he came in contact.

He possessed a noble character and a fine disposition and he will be missed by a great number.

He was married two times. He married Jane Maria Howe for his first wife and her sister, Abigail, for his second. She passed away November 2, 1908, at the age of 92. Two children were born to them, a son and a daughter. A nephew survives, Silas H. Browning of Montville, who made his home with his uncle for a long number of years, when a young man.

FUNERALS.
Jerome Burdick.
From his late home, No. 109 North street, the funeral of Jerome Burdick, 62, died Monday morning at 2 o'clock.

The services, which were conducted by Rev. Edward S. Worcester, pastor of the Broad Street Congregational church, were very impressive and were largely attended by relatives and friends. Those who acted as bearers were James W. Burdick, George Burdick, Tracy R. Burdick and Albert A. Burdick. Numerous floral tributes were received.

He was buried in the family plot in the cemetery at South Willington for burial.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.
Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.

An excellent bill is to be found at the auditorium for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The bill is headed by the high regard for musical instruments and with a most attractive bit of scenery that is a new feature.

The act made a favorable impression on all. Jack Stockton, known as the man with the white hair, was the star of the act, with a monologue that is inimitable. He had a bunch of mirth-provoking songs and stories and was given a good round of applause.

A near team of dancers and singers, and the scene where they introduce the girl with the diamond dress is a gorgeous sight. Rossner & Hillman are character artists and in their little comedies they are very funny. Lord Fairweather and Oliver T. T. furnish to the audience a rare treat.

An unusually fine set of pictures are shown, and all are certain to be satisfied.

HORSE WAS DROWNED.
Walked Into Pond at Hallville Where Water Was Deep.

A handsome black horse, valued at $250 and owned by the Wood Brothers, who conduct a grocery business in Hallville, walked into the pond that is located directly in front of the store, Monday afternoon, and, in spite of the efforts to save the animal, was drowned. The horse was hitched to a delivery wagon in which were a new grocery and basket of clothes and was standing unhitched in front of the store. It is thought that the horse was thirsty and seeing the water, went to it to get a drink. The pond is about 20 feet deep and when the horse stepped on the bank and fell it had no chance of escape. The water covered the horse and wagon.

The animal was easily located after the accident took place and with the aid of hooks and ropes the owners finally succeeded in getting the wagon and dead horse out of the pond.

Open House Club to Give Play.
Under the direction of Joseph C. Davis, rehearsals were begun Monday for the play, "The Comedy of Errors," to be produced by the Open House Club some time during the winter. An interesting and profitable season was held, and already considerable business has been secured for this coming event. No exact date has been set for the production of the comedy, but it will probably be some time during January.
